REALISM, in philosophy, refers to the view that the \"reality\" of any material objects exists in the external world independently of the human mind.

Put differently, realism holds that what one perceives is real and is out there existing in concrete reality.

For example, the \"maple tree\" that I see with my naked eyes is existing in concrete reality and is not just an abstract concept produced by the mind as the idealists would have us believe.

In metaphysics, the term \"particulars\" refers to concrete, spatiotemporal entities or objects, such as a tree or a book. Often times, the term \"individuals\" is used interchangeably with \"particulars\".

The term \"universals\" refers to the properties or characteristics possessed by a particular, concrete spatiotemporal object, such as color or hardness.
